

We are delighted to announce 'The Future' – a one day consultation on the future of Christian Youth Work.

Frontier Youth Trust and Worth Unlimited are committed to undertaking effective research about work with young people and sharing good practice, ideas and innovations with others who seek to develop Christian youth work.

The consultation will use the principles of the World Café way of working (for more information see: www.theworldcafe.com) and promises to be an exciting, stimulating and rewarding day for those who attend.

Using the World café model means that everyone is welcome, all views are important and collectively we have the insight we need to highlight the steps we need to take in the future. It's about connecting, conversations, contributions, collective discoveries, combined intelligences and committed actions. We would love you to be part of it.

The Future will take place:

10 December 2007
10.30 – 4.00
The Malt Cross
St James's Street
Nottingham. NG1 6FG

It will cost £15 per person which will include refreshments and buffet lunch.

The aim will be to discuss the topic, reach some conclusions and produce a report which will be pivotal for Christians seeking to strategically develop work, plan future initiatives, gain support and funding, engage stakeholders and exert leverage in organisational, local and national policy discussions.

In the next few days we will be sending out a general invitation to our contacts who may wish to participate. We are, however, looking for some partners who will join us in helping shape the process, commit to being there and build upon the outcomes of the consultation in their own contexts.

We are writing to you to see if you will be a partner. Rather uniquely in today's culture, this won't cost you anything other than a small amount of your time (probably some email dialogue), the cost of two tickets (£30) and attendance at the day by either yourself and a named colleague, or two other named colleagues.

In return, you will be able to help develop the nature of the questions we discuss, contribute and comment upon any report produced (pre-publication), have your name and/or logo on publicity and documents and be associated with what we hope will be an innovative and ground breaking piece of work. Additionally, you will be able to purchase additional tickets for just £10! If you decide not to be a partner, you would still be very welcome to join us.

If this is something you would like to be part of, please would you complete the form below and email it back to me and arrange for a cheque¹ for the cost of your tickets to be sent to us, payable to 'FYT'. We can then confirm your places and get back to you regarding development of the day.

If you would like to come, but not be a formal partner, then simply complete the form and just send us £15.

There is a limit to how much we can put in a letter about explaining the process or the focus of the event, so please do contact us if there is anything we can shed further light upon.

We are committed to participative processes, serving the Kingdom and helping develop youth work in the future. We hope you can join us.

Many thanks
