

Oxford Centre for Youth Ministry
is proud to present
a day conference with
KENDA CREASY DEAN
KENDA CREASY DEAN

Kenda Creasy Dean is the author of Practicing Passion: Youth and the Quest for a Passionate Church (Eerdmans), co-author (with Ron Foster) of The Godbearing Life: The Art of Soul-Tending in Youth Ministry (Youth Specialties/Zondervan) and co-editor (with Chap Clark & Dave Rahn) Starting Right: Thinking Theologically about youth ministry (Youth Specialties/Zondervan).

A dynamic and engaging speaker and consultant for youth ministry and theological education, Kenda works with youth ministers around the world, and with youth in her local congregation. Kenda, her husband Kevin, their postmodern adolescent children Brendan and Shannon, and assorted pets live on the campus of Princeton Theological Seminary where Kenda serves as the Associate Professor of Youth, Church and Culture and Director of the School of Christian Education.

Tuesday 16th May 2006
10.30am -4.00pm (arrivals from 10.00am)

at

The Oxford Centre for Youth Ministry, Church Annex,
Jeune Street, Oxford OX4 1BN

£15.00 per head including lunch, payable in advance.

Early booking for this event is essential; please see over for details and booking form.

I would like to attend the Kenda Creasy
Dean day conference on Tuesday 16th
May 2006

Name:

Address:

Phone number:

Email:

(Directions to the centre will be emailed)

I enclose payment of £15 made out to 'OXFORD
YOUTH WORKS' which I understand also covers lunch.

Signed:

Dietary requirements:

Mobility Needs:

Please return this form by 18th April '06 with payment to:

The Oxford Centre for Youth Ministry,
Church Annex, Jeune Street, Oxford OX4 1BN

01865 204999

oxford@centreforyouthministry.ac.uk

Check availability after the deadline.