What is it?

Yellow Braces PLUS is a weekend away in the Herefordshire Countryside at the 'Woolhope Cockshoot' residential centre. It's for older teenagers (school years 10, 11, 12, 13) who are interested in being part of a retreat exploring life, faith, community and prayer.

Tell me more!

The event is headed up by Ian Macdonald, the Diocesan Youth Adviser, alongside a small team of youth leaders/youth workers. The venue is a Christian residential centre in the middle of the countryside near Ledbury. We'll be mainly based in and around the centre but may well head out to the Malvern Hills on the Saturday. Mainly though we'll be based at the centre; living in a rhythm of work, eating, fun, prayer and discussion ..... Oh and probably playing some mad games (there is an emergency table tennis table in the cellar). Accommodation is in bunk-bedding in dorms.

How much?

The cost for the whole weekend is £56 This includes transport from Newbury or Oxford and food.

Travel

Transport will be leaving from Newbury in Berkshire and also from Oxford on the Friday evening, you will be returned to whichever of these points you joined at on the Sunday afternoon.

Booking

You must be in school years 10, 11, 12, 13 (or equivalent age) at the time of Yellow Braces PLUS. There are only 12 places so please contact Bev Higgs, bev.higgs@oxford.anglican.org, to check there is a space and to sort out booking and payment details.
